Garcia's bizarre behavior prompts return to pen

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A BaySide Park resident is back at Parchman State Penitentiary after his bizarre behavior prompted a mistrial Thursday afternoon and a change of venue.

Fritz Garcia, who has been in penitentiary because of a previous rape conviction, was recently returned to Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis for a Circuit Court trial Thursday for burglary of an occupied dwelling.

However, when Garcia was brought back to the Hancock Courthouse courtroom Thursday afternoon for the beginning of the burglary trial he began spitting on a table and whispering obscenities to his court-appointed attorney, Yvonne Sills, Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson reported that day.

Garcia was returned to the jail and later transported back to Parchman. Sills requested and was granted by Place Two Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin a mistrial and change of venue to the maximum-security courtroom at the Harrison County Courthouse in Gulfport.

Garcia will be the first person to be tried in the modern facility which contains a bullet and sound-proof glass-enclosed area for unruly defendants in which proceedings can be seen and heard.

Because of Garcia's gestures and suggestive statements to Sill's, Griffin released the young attorney from the case.

William Frisbie, incoming Hancock public defender, will be Garcia's legal counsel at his trial to be scheduled sometime at the end of November.

Also contributing to the mistrial decision was Garcia's conduct in the county jail where he was being held during the court's lunch break and his behavior that morning during jury selection.

Peterson said Garcia was temporarily handcuffed by a deputy to a pipe in the jail when the prisoner slid the cuffs along the pipe to a fire extinguisher.

Garcia took the extinguisher and sprayed the jail and its inmates with the dry chemical.

The resulting chemical smoke prompted sheriff's deputies to call the Bay St. Louis Fire Department which responded to the scene.

All prisoners were temporarily evacuated from the jail while the resulting chemical dust was removed from the outdated and overcrowded facility.

During jury selection that morning Deputy and Court Bailiff Charles John repeatedly ordered Garcia to stop muttering to Sills and the audience.

Garcia continued to whisper suggestive statements to Sills and the audience.

He also began winking, burping, pounding on a table, making buzzing sounds and mumbling to spectators "I know you, you and you..." among other rambling statements.

When Griffin asked if any jury members knew Garcia, he raised his hand.

The defendant also made an obscene hand gesture to Assistant District Attorney Sonny Johnson as he was questioning prospective jurors.

Garcia also rubbed Sills arm and loudly whispered obscenities to her.

The defendant had originally agreed to plead guilty to a rape charge, but Thursday changed his mind and requested a jury trial.

Garcia will stand trial for the rape and burglary charges in Gulfport.

Hancock board discusses 40 percent profit return on annual school pictures

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County School Board Saturday debated whether or not the school district should pocket 40 percent of the cost which students pay for annual photographs.

The board recently accepted a bid from Southeastern School Photography of Biloxi. A 40 percent cut to the school district was included in the bid.

Saturday, Board member Louie Ladner argued the district should not keep the money.

"This is something that is practiced all over the state (school districts keeping 40 percent of the cost) but I think it's unfair," he said.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph argued the district should keep the money since the money goes directly to Student Activity Funds.

He claimed the money is used to support travel for cheerleaders, the BETA Club and other school functions not budgeted by the school district.

"The activity fund is a student fund and all the money is for the students," Randolph said.

He noted the school's administration and teachers handle all the photography orders and are in charge of the distribution of the photographs.

He said the 40 percent figure is reimbursement to the district for duties performed by teachers and administrators.

Currently principals at each school determine where student activity money is spent. However, Randolph argued the student councils and teachers should be included in the budget decisions concerning the activity fund.

Ladner questioned if the school district could legally accept 40 percent of the photography fee.

"The publication (the student year book) is supposed to be non profit. I don't think this is legal," he said.

He requested Board Attorney Joseph Gex to look into the matter.

Ladner and Randolph also disagreed about whether the 40 percent figure includes fees for senior portraits.

Ladner claimed the district received

40 percent of the cost for senior portraits. Randolph said the 40 percent only pertains to student day pictures.

The superintendent agreed to check that matter by the next meeting.

Also Saturday, the board delayed approving several fund raising requests until a school policy is formulated.

Randolph presented a policy which he said is included in a School Policy Manual adopted by the board several years ago.

The policy states the all fund raising efforts 'shall be subject to the approval of the school board.'

Ladner said a more recent policy was approved by the board during the administration of former Superintendent Billy D. Sills.

He said that policy authorizes the superintendent to make the decision.

Randolph agreed to formulate a new policy concerning fund raising activities. He also said he is in the process of updating the entire School Policy Manual.

Hancock General shows $338,000 annual profit

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The trustees of Hancock General Hospital were told by Mike Dossett, comptroller, a year end unaudited profit of $388,000 was made by the facility in last year's operations.

Dossett said one area of disappointment was the high rate of bad debts which were at 12 percent for the year and only 8.4 per cent had been budgeted.

The comptroller stated he felt the bad debts collections were higher because of the higher rate of unemployment in our area.

Revenues for the year were listed a $6.2 million with $4.2 million staying in the area for salaries, goods and services.

It was announced that Rev. Charles Johnson was re-appointed for another term as trustee by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

An election was held for officers for the coming year with Johnson re-elected as president; Brother Martin Hernandez, vice-president; Bobby Baxter, secretary; and Conrad Mauffray, treasurer.

All active and consulting doctors were re-appointed at the recommendation of the medical staff.

Authorization was given for the advertising for a modern piece of lab equipment for replacement.

Phil Langston, administrator, presented a revised hospital release of information for the press procedures which was approved by the trustees last month after making some minor changes.

A report was given on the completion of the re-wiring of the x-ray room by the hospital maintenance at a big savings.

The new x-ray equipment is scheduled to be installed within the next month.

The redecoration of the hospital rooms is underway again, according to Langston. He said, "We had a short break after half of the rooms were completed and are now in the process of completing the rest of them."

The trustees went into an executive session to discuss the long range planning of HGH.

FIKE DRILL—Hancock County Sheriff's Department Deputies Delbert Seay, left, and Alvin Ladner guard prisoners who were evacuated from the county jail Thursday when a prisoner turned on a CO2 fire extinguisher in the facility, spraying inmates with the chemical and causing a false alarm to be reported from the jail. The prisoner, Fritz Garcia, has been returned to Parchman awaiting rescheduling of a trial on burglary charges. The trial in Hancock County Thursday was declared a mistrial and he will be retried later in Gulfport. Garcia is currently serving time in Parchman on an earlier rape conviction. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Probation revoked, man gets five years

By BRENT MACEY

Wayne Champagne, 25, formerly of Lakeshore, was sentenced to serve five years in the State Penitentiary in Parchman Friday by Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin.

Champagne was found guilty of violating the terms of his probation.

The state contended Champagne did not pay some $1,923 in fines, restitution and court costs which were assessed against him two years ago after he pled guilty to a grand larceny charge.

Parole officer Jerry Heitzmann with the Mississippi Department of Corrections, testified Champagne was working out of state and had not contacted the parole office since December of 1981.

At that time Champagne had paid some $600 in fines, but was behind on $200 monthly payments and owed some $1,300.

Earlier this month, Champagne turned himself in to the Hancock County Sheriff's office.

Although he paid an additional $385.50 on Thursday, Griffin ruled he had violated parole and still owed the court $439.

During the hearing Champagne's mother testified she had visited the Circuit Clerk's office and requested to know how much money her son owed so she could pay the fine. However, office employees told her they had no records to indicate what amount of money was owed, she testified.

Also during this term of Circuit Court, Kenneth Mioton, 22, of Bay St. Louis, was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary following trial before Griffin where no jury was present.

Mioton allegedly broke into a home on Dunbar Avenue that was occupied at night.

He testified he had been a heavy drug user and did not recall the night in question.

In other Circuit Court action this term, David Skinner of Waveland was sentenced to 10 years in the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

However, Griffin ordered the youth to attend a training center in Oakley, Miss. for three years prior to determining whether to uphold the sentence.

Skinner pled guilty to an armed robbery in Waveland last year during which time an amputee was shot.

Other persons appearing in Circuit Court this week include:

—Toni Madere, who pled guilty to uttering forgery in relation to drug prescriptions. She was placed on three years probation after a 12 year prison sentence was suspended by Griffin;

Fair

There will be ribbons given to winners in the exhibits and in the adult homemaker divisions. A tri-color award will be given by Biemann's Funeral Home with Edmond Fahey Funeral Home sponsoring a Sweepstakes Award.

Hancock oyster season slated to open Nov. 1

Oyster dredging opens Nov. 1 on St. Joe Reef in western Hancock County.

The state Commission on Wildlife Conservation approved next month's opening of the St. Joe Reef, which lies in the Mississippi Sound between Bayou Caddy and the Mississippi-Louisiana line.

The commission also authorized the state Bureau of Marine Resources to open other reefs to dredging at an indefinite later date and to close St. Joe if necessary before the commission meets again in mid-November.

The next opening for dredging probably will be Telegraph Reef off Pass Christian and the Henderson Point Reef.

Bureau director Dr. Richard Leard was uncertain about when dredging would be allowed at other reefs.

"I really have no idea. It sort of depends on how long the oysters last at St. Joe," he said. "By opening them one at a time, it's easier to tell where the oysters are coming from," he said.

The commission set a 36-bag limit per day per boat on dredging.

In other business Saturday, the board requested Gex to determine if the school board could receive money obtained through a two mill tax levied this year.

The tax was to be used in conjunction with a loan from the Educational Finance Commission in order to construct several classrooms in the district. The EFC never did provide the loan and the classroom project was abandoned.

Board members now wonder if the money from the two mill tax can be utilized by the district.

We urge all citizens to be as generous as possible when they are asked to make a UNICEF donation.

This is a big week at the Hancock County Fair Grounds.

It is the annual fair and livestock exhibition time.

We would suggest all residents to stop by the fairgrounds this week and see the many activities which will be underway.

See you at the fairgrounds.

We just received a telephone call from a subscriber complaining about the amount of trash on all the medians of US-90.

This is a serious problem, the persons doing the littering should really be locked up somewhere.

There is a tremendous need for us to take more pride in our community and try to keep it clean.

A lack of cleanup along our highways is one of the items topping the list of complaints we receive at the newspaper.

One of these days people may wise up and keep their trash until they get home and properly dispose of it in a waste can.

The horrors of Halloween will again be displayed by the Krewe of Triton on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

It is not recommended for those with a weak heart or over 99-years of age.

Triton's Chambers of Horrors are said to be better this year and proceeds will be used to help with the Krewe's annual Mardi Gras Day Parade.

Great strides are being made by Boy Scout Troop 217 which was re-organized several months ago.

The troop now has 23 scouts, according to Roy Mason, scoutmaster.

The troop sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church meets every Tuesday in the Scout Hut behind the church.

Youth, 13-years and older, who are interested can contact the scoutmaster at one of the meetings which get underway at 7 p.m. Mason reports he still has openings for more boys.

It seems there are still folks who are trying to disrupt the registrations of 18-year-olds.

Too bad these guys were not around during the 40's and 50's, they for sure would not be running the streets. A little cell would be their permanent address for many years.

One just wonders whatever happened to patriotism. We hope Americans will wake up one day.

The People's Business

ETHICS IN BUSINESS AND GOVERNMENT

Ethics in business and government is a subject that too often is overlooked and one considers the day-to-day activities of business and government.

Behind the headlines of every alleged ethical infraction is a more detailed and complex situation than is as simple as the headline might indicate. In most cases, the line between the ethical and unethical conduct.

Except in areas clearly covered by governmental, regulatory, or trade guidelines, the field of ethics is a clouded one. What is considered ethical behavior by one individual or group might be a subject of concern to another. And there is not single guide on which all individuals and groups can base their behavior.

Aware that there is an increasing interest in the ethics of government and business, the Ethics Committee of the Mississippi Economic Council is studying this subject. The committee is looking into several aspects of the question of ethics. Its report, expected later this year, could provide guidance on this important topic. Only through ethical actions can the people have full confidence in business and governmental institutions.

Small-business Angle

by Wilson S. Johnson

SMALL BUSINESS WANTS TAX REFORM

A small-business owner wrote me recently to talk about tax reform. In his letter, he said, "I have an MBA and should not even consider trying to do my own tax filing."

The time is ripe for tax reform. Our tax system has become too complex. There are many proposals on the table to make it simpler.

One of the most talked about alternatives is the so-called flat rate tax. A survey of the half-million members of the National Federation of Independent Business, conducted last summer, showed that 62 percent of those responding favored the concept of taxing individual income at a flat rate.

Only 26 percent said they wanted to retain the present progressive rate of taxation. One member wrote, "We don't need more taxes; what we need is compliance and fairness, neither of which the current system of taxation provides. Live the flat tax!"

One of the arguments against the flat rate tax is that it could not survive unscathed the pressures of special interests represented in Congress — that what emerged would not be a pure flat rate tax. There are concerns that eliminating deductions for charitable contributions would spell ruin or at least hard times for churches, colleges and community volunteer organizations — all of which rely heavily on tax deductible donations.

The deduction for mortgage interest would also disappear with a true flat tax. Those in the housing and real estate industries — already hard hit by recession — say this would be an almost fatal blow to them and to the dreams of young people wanting to buy their first homes.

The small-business community believes that any changes in the tax code should make the system more fair and equitable and that improvements should encourage investment and capital formation. Proponents of the flat rate tax argue that their plan would eliminate tax shelters which merely "store" money in non-productive investments and would, instead, direct available capital to more productive investments in modernized plant and equipment.

Besides the flat rate tax, other reforms are being suggested. They include a consumption tax (taxing people on what they consume but not on savings or investment). A national sales tax has been mentioned and is favored by some small businesses. On the other hand, the Value Added Tax, which received some attention in the 1980 tax debate, is strongly rejected by most small-business people.

It is too soon to suggest any one alternative that is right for small business or the country. However, the present tax system has become too complex. It is not equitable. It needs reform.

One small-business man summed his feelings up this way: "I do believe the time has come for a flat rate income tax — if the Washington Boys do not mess it up with a variable tax on how much you earn."

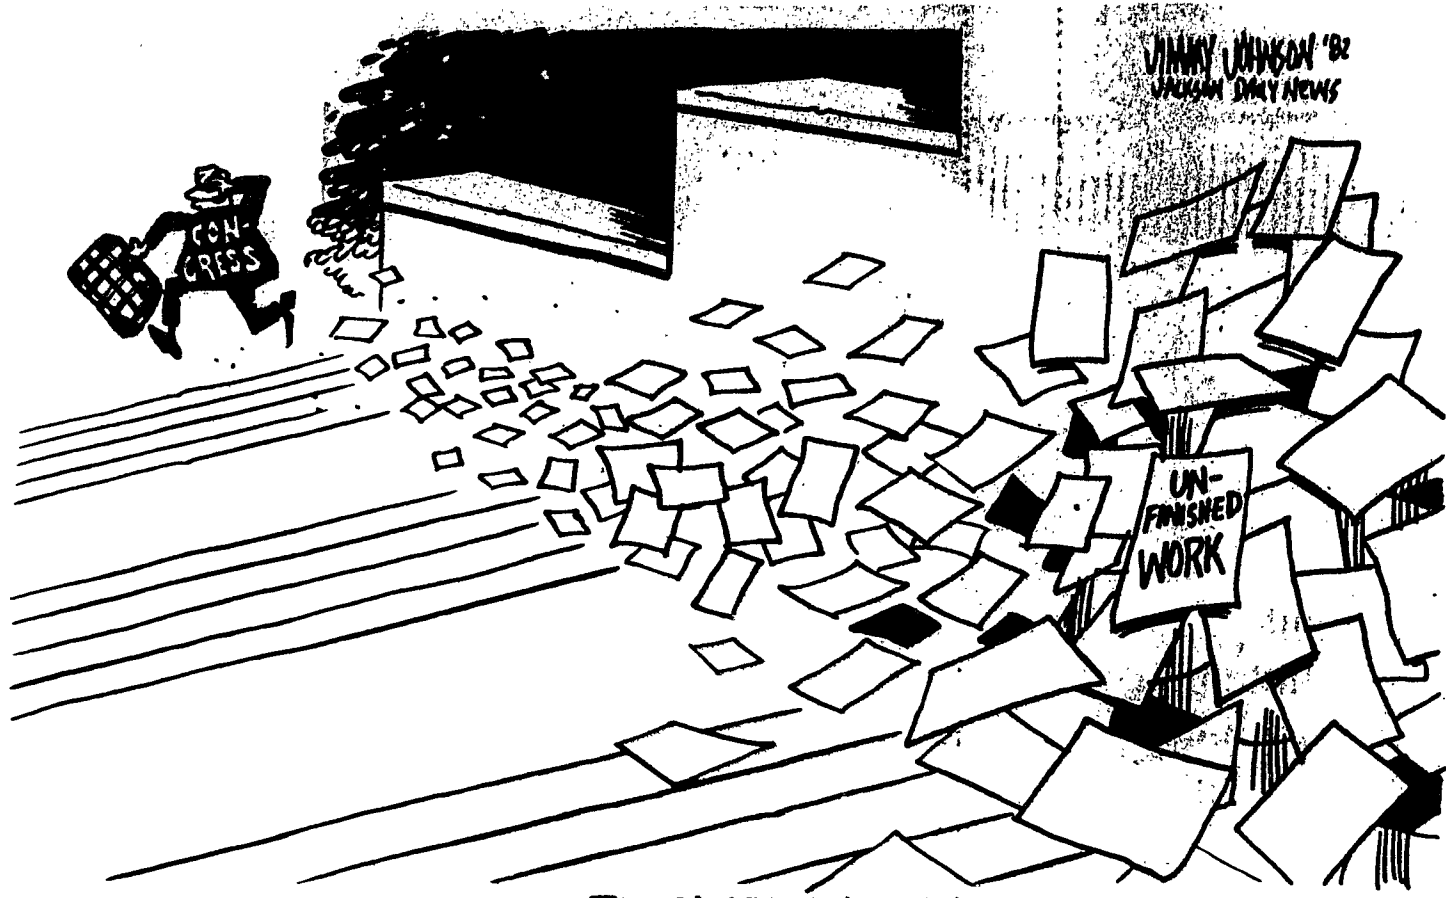

The lame-duck Congress and the 98th Congress will both be faced with this important issue. Small-business owners must keep in touch with the critical debate on tax reform.

(Wilson S. Johnson is president of the National Federation of Independent Business, representing more than half a million small-business men and women.)

Health Department offers flu vaccine

Record low temperatures and the possibility of one of the century's coldest winters could mean more cases of the common cold. Colds can't always be avoided, but influenza can often be prevented.

Influenza outbreaks annually claim the lives of many people in Mississippi, primarily the elderly and chronically ill. Influenza immunization protects many others from the disease and its complications.

The Mississippi State Department of Health offers influenza immunizations through the 82 county health departments statewide. The vaccine has been shipped to the counties and has been available since October 1.

The Hancock County Health Department on Dunbar Avenue in Bay St. Louis administers the vaccine from 1 to 4 p.m. on Mondays and from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. Thursdays.

Since no federal or state funds are available this year to provide free flu vaccine, the program will again be offered for a nominal fee. Vaccine recipients must pay a $3 charge to cover the cost of the vaccine and administration.

The only exceptions to the charge will be active tuberculosis cases and cystic fibrosis patients.

Immunizations will be available to the general population with no age restrictions, but public health officials emphasize that people in the "high risk" groups should take advantage of the availability of the vaccine.

High risk groups include those 65 years of age and older and people of any age with heart trouble, lung diseases, kidney diseases, diabetes, anemia, and other chronic illness.

"Even though no state funds are available to pay for vaccine and its administration, the State Department of Health is still responsible for making every effort to provide for vaccine-preventable diseases," said State Health Officer Dr. Alton B. Cobb. "As a public health agency, we feel responsible for helping protect Mississippi people from illness and deaths associated with influenza."

Vaccine for the 1982 flu season provides protection from the current prevalent strains of influenza (A/Brazil/78, A/Bangkok/79, and B/Singapore/79).

Persons 13 years of age and older will require only one dose of the vaccine, while those under 13 years should get two doses unless they have received flu shots within the past five years.

Health officials have not predicted the severity of the 1982-1983 flu season. The season usually includes October through April, with the number of cases peaking in late January and early February.

AAA offers Halloween reflectors, safety tips

The American Automobile Association, to promote its yearly safety theme of "Be Seen on Halloween," is offering free reflectorized tape for costumes and safety tips to parents and kids in Mississippi through Oct. 29.

The tips and tape can be mailed if requested by phone or mail.

AAA reminds motorists that extra driving caution will also help ensure that this year's trick-or-treaters will be able to enjoy their collection of goods.

Youngsters will be out after sunset — many of them dressed in dark costumes. And most of their thoughts will be on fun, not safety.

Drivers should be on the lookout for trick-or-treaters darting across streets. If you'll be driving Halloween evening, it would be wise to turn on vehicle headlights earlier than usual so you can see and be seen.

With the worries of tampered-with candy and youngsters' safety, many communities have set aside an evening for a neighborhood Halloween party, rather than letting youngsters make the usual rounds.

For small children, this might be an especially good idea. Bobbing for apples and winning prizes for costumes can be just as much fun — and safer — for today's trick-or-treaters.

But for concerned parents of the traditional trick-or-treater, AAA offers these guidelines for their safety:

—Dress children in costumes calling for white, or outline clothing in reflective tape.

—Have children carry a flashlight.

—Make sure masks don't hinder visibility and costumes are short enough to avoid tripping.

—Don't allow youngsters to trick-or-treat alone. Toddlers should be accompanied by an older brother or sister, or go along yourself.

—Urge youngsters to complete their rounds before dark. Set down a definite time for your children to be home.

For youngsters' safety, sweep walks of slippery leaves, to avoid falls.

Tells maskers not to enter homes of strangers or eat unwrapped candy or fruit. Caution them against accepting rides from strangers. Suggest that they walk, not run, and to look both ways before crossing a street.

Finally, when trick-or-treaters arrive home, inspect Halloween goodies and dispose of any unwrapped articles. The best treats to offer neighborhood children are store-bought, wrapped candy or gum. With today's suspicious, home-made popcorn balls will probably be thrown out by other concerned parents.

DRIVER KILLED—The driver of this foreign car, Gerald D. McCormick, Germantown, Tenn., was killed Thursday at 12:40 a.m. when he apparently struck a truck driven by Ronald W. Gray Jr., of Mobile, Ala. loaded with oysters traveling West on US-90 in Waveland, according to Investigator Sandra Henley. The vehicle is surveyed by Wrecker Owner N.A. Pernicelli, right, and sons Mike and Timmy. Carl Banderet, Hancock coroner held an inquest and McCormick's death was listed as being caused by head and internal injuries. Henley reports this was the first fatality of the year for Waveland. It was the seventh highway fatality in Hancock County for the month of October. Waveland Patrolmen John Wilkerson and Allen James handled the accident with assistance from Wilbert Dorsey of the Bay St. Louis Police Department. Mobile Medie, the Waveland and Bay St. Louis Fire Departments and the East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department had units at the scene. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Individual landowners own 72 percent of state's timber

WHO OWNS FORESTLAND?

Who owns the majority of the 16.5 million acres of commercial forestland in Mississippi?

"If you guessed timber companies or the Federal government, you were wrong," says Everard Baker, private lands forester for the State Forestry Commission.

Private, non-industrial landowners, with an average of about 80 acres, own 72 percent of Mississippi's forestland. The rest is held by timber companies (18%) and government or other public entities (10%), according to Mississippi's last official forest census.

For Mississippi's private, non-industrial landowners, the Forestry Commission provides expert advice on forest management at no cost to the landowner. The agency works closely with these independent owners of forestland. "America needs the help of the thousands of smaller landowners if future needs, projected to double in the next few decades, are to be met," says Baker.

Mississippi's forest industry is very important to our economy. It is one of the top manufacturing employers in the state. According to the 1978 Survey of Manufacturers, more than 43 thousand people earn their living as employees in the forest industries in Mississippi. This is almost 20 percent of all persons employed in Mississippi and does not include persons involved solely in forest management nor independent loggers.

In 1981, Mississippi landowners received approximately $257 million for timber harvested on their lands, even with a slump in the timber market. However, apparently forestry's support of our state's economy could be much greater.

"Studies show that Mississippi's non-industrial forestlands are producing only about 60 percent of their potential due to poor management or no management at all," says Baker, a forest management specialist.

"Not only does the state need that potential production, but the owners are missing the opportunity to make their lands more profitable for themselves."

Proper forest management is a science requiring specialized knowledge, and the state's forestry agency can provide it. At the landowner's request, Hancock County Forester Rand D. Riedrich, with the Mississippi Forestry Commission will make an on-the-ground inspection of the timberland.

Taking into consideration first the landowner's objectives, he will help the owner formulate long-range plans to achieve these goals, whether they be timber production, recreation, esthetics, wildlife production or a combination of these. With these specific needs in mind, the forester will evaluate conditions of the land and resources to determine how they can best be managed. He will also note particular problems and ways to correct them. This information is then written into a "forest management plan," a step by step plan the landowner can follow to accomplish his forestland objectives.

More information about these and other services can be obtained by writing the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Beat East Central, 7-0

Rocks win!

By RANDY PONDER

Joby LaBruzzo grabbed a fumble in mid-air and raced all the way to the East Central 4 yard line setting up Mark Tubre's fourth quarter touchdown as St. Stanislaus edged the Hornets, 7-0, for their first win of the 1982 football season, Friday night in Wade-Hurley.

The first three periods in the Deep South Conference game were a defensive standoff. The Rocks did miss an excellent scoring opportunity, however, just before halftime when a blocked punt gave them the ball at the East Central 10.

With only 14 seconds on the clock, St. Stanislaus was unable to get off a play.

There was enough excitement and close calls packed into the final frame to more than make up for the first three.

On the first play of that period, LaBruzzo recovered the fumble that led to the only points in the contest.

The Hornets were at the Rock 42 with a first and ten following a punt when the ball popped loose. LaBruzzo caught the slippery thing before it touched the ground and as an official tossed his yellow penalty flag into the crowd, raced down the side line and almost scored.

With the ball apparently in St. Stanislaus' possession, a tense hush fell on the small but vocal group of Rock-A-Chaw boosters as the officials determined which team was guilty of the infraction.

As the head referee signaled a facemask violation against the Hornets, a loud chorus of 'Here We Go Rocks' accompanied the offensive unit onto the field.

Following two futile attempts up the middle, Tubre took a handoff from quarterback Matt Scardino and crashed over the goal line from the right side. Russ Betcher booted the extra point and the Rocks had the lead for the first time all year.

The lead was in jeopardy on the ensuing kickoff when Byron Wells caught the football and galloped to the Rock 10 before being tackled from behind.

Fortunately for St. Stanislaus the play was called back as the officials penalized the Hornets for a personal foul.

The fired-up Rock-A-Chaw defense stone walled their opponent and forced a punt after three plays gained only one yard.

St. Stanislaus was also unable to move and punted the ball back to East Central. With 6:28 left in the game, the Hornets fired a pass to Carl Cumbest. The play carried all the way to the Rock 5. Lady luck again smiled on the Rocks as East Central was hit with another major penalty, holding.

The flag erased the big gainer and pushed the Hornets onto their own end of the field.

from where they were forced to punt.

With their shaky lead, the Rocks took possession on their 15 with 4:35 remaining in the game.

One or two first downs and the Rocks could run out the clock.

East Central helped the Rock-A-Chaw cause when on a third and nine situation they were again flagged with a big penalty, a personal foul for a late hit.

The call gave St. Stanislaus a much needed first down and moved the ball out to the 31.

On the next play, the Rocks seemed ready to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory as they fumbled the ball back to East Central at the St. Stanislaus 36.

With time running out, East Central used four downs to move just 11 yards. Then a quick pass to Jeff Childers propelled the Hornets into a first and goal situation at the Rock 4 with 1:02 on the clock.

On the following play, the East Central quarterback tried to force a pass into coverage as Kevin Scardino made a game saving interception in the endzone to thwart the Hornets final threat.

The ball was brought out to the 20 and the Rock-A-Chaws ran one play and then just stood and listened as their teammates and fans counted down the last few seconds of the game. Final score, Rocks 7-Hornets 0.

St. Stanislaus, 1-7, will travel to Pass Christian Friday to challenge the Pirates, 1-7, in what promises to be a very interesting contest. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Junior Hawks topple Mercy Cross, 28-6

Hancock North Central's Ninth Grade Junior Hawks Thursday scored in all four quarters to defeat the Mercy Cross Crusaders 28-6 in the Biloxi Municipal Stadium.

Hawk fullback Drew Malley posted touchdowns in the first, second and third periods, and halfback Nathan Davis broke in from five yards out in the fourth stanza for six points.

Malley's scores came on runs of four yards, two yards and one yard, respectively.

Davis picked up the extra points in the first quarter, putting HNC out front 8-0.

The Crusaders posted their lone tally of the evening with 40 seconds left in the first half on a 70-yard pass completion, leaving the Hawks with a 14-6 edge at intermission.

In the third period halfback Stanley Jourdan added two points after Malley's one yard plunge, pushing the Hawks further ahead with an 18-point cushion.

Davis' five yard run closed out the scoring in the fourth period, Hawks ahead 28-6.

Last week's win gives the Junior Hawks a 4-2-1 record as they face the unbeaten Bay High Junior Tigers this week.

The Hawks will host the county championship event with kickoff slated for 7 p.m. Thursday.

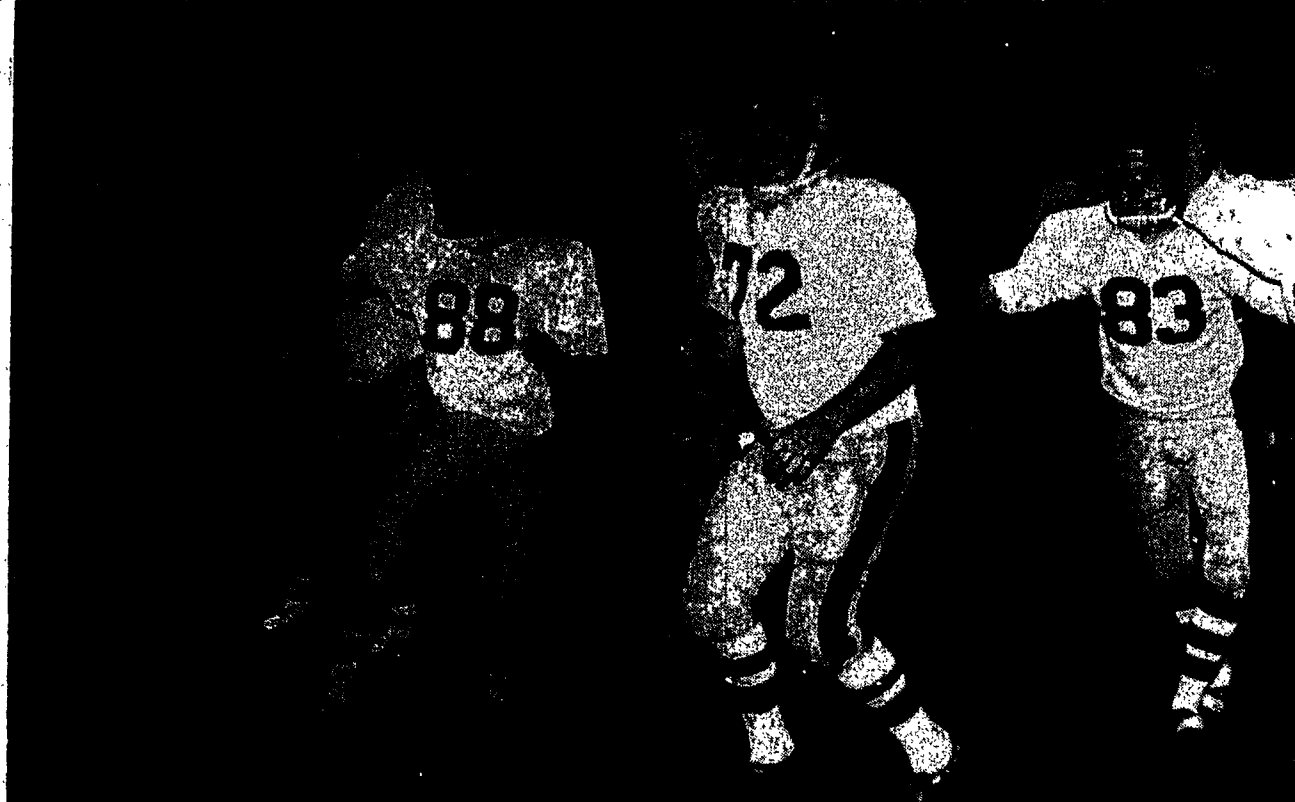

Both Hawk and Tiger

Juniors have defeated the St. Stanislaus Ninth Graders, giving this week's winner at Hawk Stadium claim to the county championship.

The contest is even more crucial for the Tigers who can lay claim to the Deep South Conference Championship—if they win.

The Tigers are 6-0-1 going into the pit with the Hawks.

They were tied Oct. 14 by East Central, 14-14.

Hawks humble Crusaders

By EDGAR PEREZ

Fumbles, interceptions and penalties kept the score board bare in the first half of the Hancock North Central Homecoming football contest Friday against Mercy Cross of Biloxi.

But HNC's explosive halfback Laddell Curry ended the stalemate on the opening kickoff after a 102-yard ceremony-filled intermission, with a 90-yard return for a touchdown.

Returning to action with an injured arm cast-free but heavily wrapped, Hawk kicking specialist Bobby Beech booted in the conversion to complete a seven-point icebreaker.

The Hawks set out on a scoring spree, adding eight more points in the third period and 19 in the fourth to take a 34-12 homecoming victory.

The Crusaders appeared ready to make it a tight contest in the second half by following the Hawk score with a 56-yard punt drive.

Hawk back Mark Santalla broke up two pass attempts during the dozen plays stabilized by the visitors before MC quarterback Steve Sliman hit wide receiver Glenn Mattina for six.

Hawk tackle Mickey Kiehm blocked the Crusader kick, leaving his opponents one point behind with 6:52 remaining in the third period.

Crusader running back Kevin Brune kept that scoring drive alive with a well-executed fake punt on fourth down. He picked up 25 yards for the first down.

The Hawks had the ball in play near mid-field when quarterback Scott Favre hit end Cedric Goff with a 44-yard touchdown pass near the end of the quarter.

On the conversion, Favre put the ball up again and Curry took it in the end zone for two, putting the Hawks out front 15-6 with 3:35 left in the period.

But before the period was over, Favre connected for another touchdown, this time over 42 yards to Santalla—a play which was nullified by a Hawk infraction.

The Hawks scrambling young junior quarterback moved on the Crusaders again in the seam stanza, this time on defense recovering a Mercy Cross fumble to set up a Hawk TD.

Santalla, making the best showing of his high school career as a running back Friday night, drove 20 yards in three plays to add six more for the Hawks less than one minute into the fourth period.

Beech's kick was wide and the score remained 21-6, Hawks.

The Crusaders, frustrated in nine plays by a steady Hawk defense, were forced to punt.

Curry returned a short kick to the MC 25, and took a Favre pass on second down for an additional 14 yards.

Fullback Dennis Lacoste added three more yards before Santalla danced the remaining eight into the Crusaders' end zone.

A Beech kick was good, bringing the Hawks to a 28-6 lead with 7:49 left in the football game.

With that second touchdown run, Santalla brought his rushing total for the evening to 139 yards.

Favre interrupted another Crusader offensive effort when he intercepted a Bryan Hebert attempt and opened the way for the final Hawk score.

The Hawks took over on their own 47, from where Curry dashed 20 yards and Kevin Ladnier snatched a Favre aerial for 10 before Mark Jackson drove across from the one for the touchdown.

A Favre run for two was unsuccessful, and the Hawks had a 34-6 lock on the event with about four and one-half minutes left.

Ignoring that margin, Mercy Cross stayed in the game. Hebert drilled one to Mattina for a touchdown with a minute-five remaining.

Hawk halfback Johnny Thornton intercepted the Crusaders' two-point try in the end zone, closing off the night's scoring at 34-12.

"We beat ourselves in the first half," commented Hawk coach Irvin Favre.

The football changed hands six times in the first quarter on turnovers, with a total of 11 fumbles and interceptions recorded in the game.

Hancock lost 90 yards on nine infractions while the Crusaders took three flags for 30 yards.

Total yardage for Hancock was 204 compared to 202 for the visitors. The Hawks picked up 12 first downs to only six for the Crusaders, however.

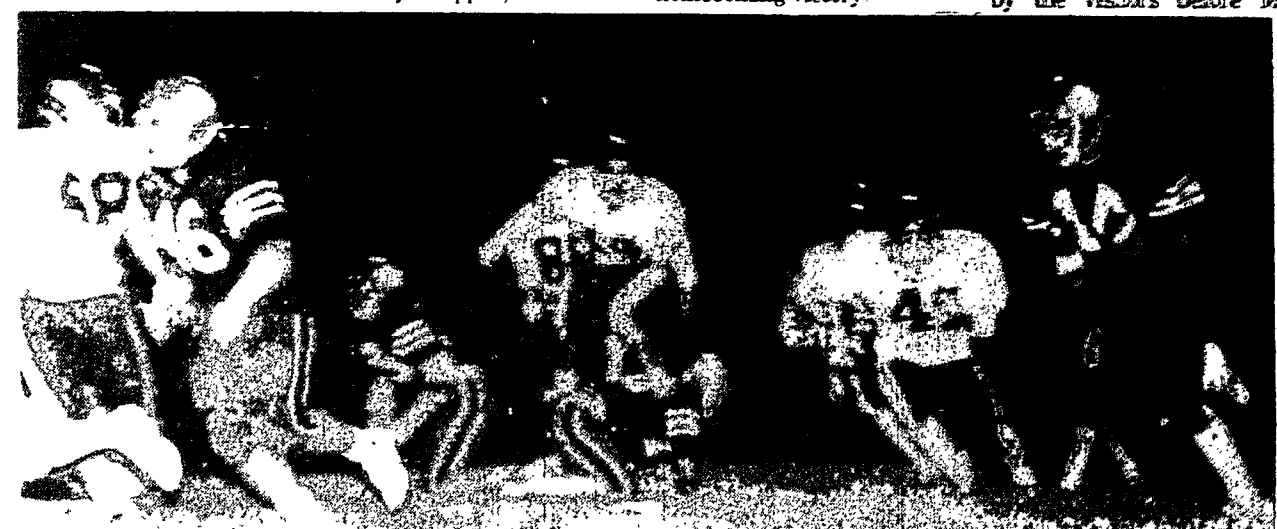

Scott Favre tossed the ball 11 times for four completions totaling 64 yards with no interceptions.

Sliman and Hebert threw 17 attempts, four completions, and three interceptions for an aerial gain of 101.

The Crusaders also picked up 101 yards rushing, compared with 240 for their hosts.

Mercy Cross' five punts averaged 22 yards. The Hawks never punted all night.

"We've pulled even at 4 and 4 with a good homecoming win," coach Favre said, adding, "we would like to play the spoiler next week against Bay High and move into a winning season."

St. Martin strikes down Pirates

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The St. Martin High School Yellowjackets shut out the Pass Christian High School Pirates Friday night, 28-0.

St. Martin earned their third 1982 victory in their homecoming contest in chilly but dry temperatures at Yellowjacket Stadium.

Pass Christian was served their seventh loss this year.

The first St. Martin score and only one in the first half occurred early in the second quarter when the Pass offense had driven to the Yellowjacket six-yard-line.

Yellowjacket Richie Gollott intercepted a short pass by Pirate Quarterback Jamie Jenkins intended for Pirate Ben Fields on the 10.

Gollott rambled some 90 yards for the touchdown, but St. Martin's extra point attempt failed and set the first half score of 6-0.

St. Martin's second TD was just a few minutes into the second half after the Yellowjacket offense had bulled to the Pirate 13.

There, Yellowjacket Quarterback Jeff Renshaw handed off to St. Martin back Tim Simer who scampered through a hole in the right line for the TD.

Renshaw kept the ball for the two-point conversion which upped the score to 14-0.

The nutritious peanut is actually a legume

By ANN O. RUSHING
Extension Marketing
Specialist

Peanuts are most often thought of as nuts, but they aren't nuts at all. Peanuts belong to the pea and bean family called legumes.

Like nuts, they're popular in salads, sandwiches, cookies, desserts — as well as just plain roasted, raw or salted.

Peanuts are also good in main dishes, soups and in combination with other vegetables. In the fall of the year, boiled or parched peanuts are a real treat and a natural for ballgames.

Indians were growing peanuts in Virginia before white settlers came to America and today peanuts are raised throughout the South. The peanut is known under the names of "goober," "goober pea," "ground pea" and "ground nut."

To be precise, the peanut is a pea rather than a nut. The term "nut" has been added because of its flavor and oil.

The oil that can be pressed out of crushed peanuts is used as a cooking oil, for making margarine, peanut butter and in other products where vegetable oil is required.

There are two general types: those known as "bunch nuts," and "vine" or "trailing" nuts. Spanish and Valencia are bunch types, others fall into the other category.

Not only do we enjoy peanuts but peanut oil and peanut butter are two by-products that might be considered indispensable in many diets.

Peanut oil has a high smoke point and is excellent for frying. It's good as an all purpose oil for salads and any use requiring a vegetable oil.

Peanut butter is a friend to all for its nutritive value, taste appeal and versatility. Fortunately, prices are more reasonable now.

Peanut butter has earned a place for itself in American diets and is available in many varieties. "Homogenized" peanut butter has oil added, while "chunky" has bits of chopped peanuts added to the finely ground peanut butter.

Other varieties include "yeasted" (yeast added to enrich the food value) and "fortified" (vitamins added to restore those vitamins lost in roasting).

Of all forms of protein available to today's consumer, peanut butter is one of the least expensive sources. In addition to the protein content, peanut butter contains substantial amounts of vitamins and minerals.

Use peanut butter in a variety of foods to enhance flavor, add richness and provide nutrition. Children adore its rich taste. Peanut butter is the number one sandwich choice of children. Whether spread with jelly, mayonnaise or fresh bananas, children can usually eat peanut butter night and day. They often prefer it over meats and vegetables. Peanut butter's versatility is almost unlimited. Use it in toppings, soups, candies, cookies, puddings and cakes, or serve it on toast.

High quality peanut butter, unopened, retains its sweet flavor for months if stored at room temperature. Once opened however, to keep it soft and ready to use, store on the cupboard shelf rather than in the refrigerator.

Refrigeration causes the peanut oil to separate. Should the contents become stiff and dry in the jar, simply add peanut oil and turn the jar upside down. In a short time, peanut butter should be like new again.

Best values in peanut butter often come with store labels or private label brands rather than the nationally advertised brands. Sizes of containers may range from five-ounces to five pounds. Just buy the size and texture your family likes.

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

A regular feature prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

Question: Does alcohol consumption increase the risk of breast cancer?

ANSWERline: A group of Boston University cancer researchers found an association between drinking and breast cancer, but it was inconclusive. They studied 4,373 women in the U.S., Canada and Israel for four years. Women with breast cancer, numbering 1,152, were questioned about drinking. Their answers were compared with those of women with other forms of cancer and women with other diseases. Drinkers of beer, wine, and spirits were estimated 1.4 to 1.9 times as likely to get breast cancer as those who didn't drink.

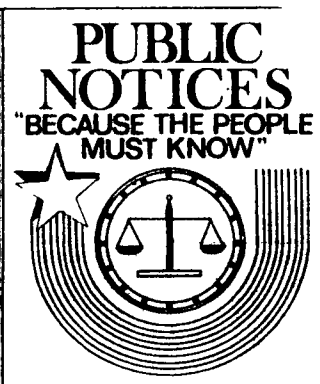

Question: Does an inverted breast nipple indicate the presence of cancer?

ANSWERline: This condition is not necessarily abnormal. However if nipples which once were erect have now become inverted, this unusual change should be brought to the attention of one's doctor immediately.

Question: Is there a test for prostate cancer similar to the Pap test for cervical cancer?

ANSWERline: No, there is not. The only way to determine conclusively if a tumor is malignant is by biopsy, or the surgical removal of a small piece of tissue from the suspected growth for microscopic examination. But by doing palpitation a doctor can feel an irregular or unusually firm area that may indicate a tumor. Then the doctor may use other tests such as X-rays, urine or blood analysis. Research with semen analysis for detecting prostate cancer is still in progress.

Air Ionizers Combat Pollution In Home

I'm often asked what food we should avoid to feel better. Yet we let something else enter our body, besides food, that has just as much influence on our health. It's the air we breathe.

Each day we inhale about 2,500 gallons of air to survive. When it's polluted with dust, pollen and smoke, the air is harmful and can make us feel irritable and stuffy.

Avoiding bad air though is difficult. Pollution is everywhere, from the countryside to our office, and it strips the atmosphere of the negative air ion which science has shown to be vital to life and health.

Now, however, ion generators have been developed to stabilize the air by discharging millions of negative ions into a room. Several models are on the market and our research shows that any priced below $100 are not usually effective.

You can pay up to $300 for some excellent units, but for normal office or personal use, such expense is not necessary. One, the Home-Ions from Paradise generator is mid-priced and has been written up in several consumer and scientific journals. It looks to be the best of all.

To get more information on it, contact the company at 1461 N. Daly, Anaheim, CA. 92806 (714) 635-1423.

The next touchdown occurred in the fourth quarter with four minutes left in the game.

The Yellowjacket offense had again driven deep into Pirate territory where workhorse Back Tony Bennett dashed in for the TD, but Renshaw fumbled the ball in the following conversion attempt and left the score at 20-0.

St. Martin's final touchdown occurred with 11 seconds left in the game after another offensive drive which resulted in Renshaw scampering six yards for the score.

Two botched PAT attempts resulting from penalties against the Yellowjackets set the game score of 26-0.

Game statistics show Pass Christian earning 10 first downs compared to 14 by the Yellowjackets.

In rushing, St. Martin rolled over the Pirates with 307 yards compared to the Pass' 103.

Jenkins earned 25 passing yards and Renshaw gained 21. Jenkins passed 13 times, completed only three and threw one interception.

Renshaw hurled the ball six times, but only completed two and also threw one interception.

Pass Christian punted five times averaging 37.8 yards.

St. Martin threw the ball three times averaging 34.7 yards.

The Pirates fumbled seven times and lost possession three times.

The Yellowjackets fumbled three times, but only lost the ball once.

Pass Christian was penalized three times for 25 yards.

But St. Martin was cited 12 times for a whopping 110 yards.

Boxing club requests financial, moral support

The Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club will sponsor boxing matches next Saturday night at the Disabled American Veteran Hall on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

Head Coach Floran Franklin noted the club needs financial support from the community to purchase trophies and pay referees to officiate at the matches.

"We are not a self-supporting club," he said.

"These boys are the future adults of our community and they need the communities help now."

He noted, "Boxing helps keep them off the streets. The boys have shown a great deal of interest in boxing and have been successful in the bouts in the past."

In addition to the financial support, Franklin noted the young athletes also need moral support. He invited the general public to attend the Saturday evening bouts.

Tricksters' Treats

Marshmallow Ghosts Decorate Cake Squares

Trick or treat time is upon us once again!

Treat your family or Halloween party guests to Chocolate-Peanut Butter Cake or Pumpkin Crumb Cake Squares. By using dessert mixes as the base for these recipes, the tricks have been removed from the baking task, and the ease of preparation gives you extra time for carving the jack-o'-lantern or greeting the evening's ghosts and goblins.

This month's baking tip from the Betty Crocker Kitchens explains the reason for turning down the sides of the paperboard cake pan, which accompanies some dessert mixes. The pan is strengthened once the sides are turned down, improving the height of the cake.

Chocolate-Peanut Butter Cake

Prepare 1 package Betty Crocker® Stir 'n Frost® devil food cake mix as directed except stir 1/3 cup peanut butter chips into batter. Bake as directed. Cool. Stir 1 tablespoon creamy peanut butter into frosting; frost cake. Top each serving with Marshmallow Ghost (below) if desired. 6 servings.

Marshmallow Ghosts: Cut 3 large marshmallows horizontally into halves; dip into sugar. Flatten with rolling pin; shape into ghost. Make eyes for ghosts by cutting small pieces of black shoestring licorice or use the chocolate frosting.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Prepare and bake according to package directions.

Pumpkin Crumb Cake Squares

1 package Big Batch® chocolate chip cookie mix
Crumb Topping (below)
can (16 ounces)

1 pumpkin
2 eggs
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice

Heat oven to 350°. Grease and flour rectangular pan, 13x9x2 inches. Knead Flavor Packets about 10 seconds. Reserve 1 cup cookie mix (dry) and 2 teaspoons contents of 1 Flavor Packet. Prepare Crumb Topping. Mix remaining Flavor Packets, remaining cookie mix, the pumpkin, eggs, orange juice and pumpkin pie spice.

Spread half of the mixture in pan; sprinkle with half of the Crumb Topping. Spread remaining mixture over Crumb Topping. Sprinkle with remaining Crumb Topping. Bake until golden brown and wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 35 to 40 minutes. Cut into about 2-inch squares. 24 squares.

Crumb Topping

Reserved 1 cup chocolate chip cookie mix
1 cup packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons grated orange peel

Reserved 2 teaspoons Flavor Packet

Mix all ingredients in small bowl with fork until moist and crumbly.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Heat oven to 375°. Stir 1/3 cup all-purpose flour into remaining cookie mix. Bake 40 to 45 minutes.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS FROM UNICEF

1. Never Trick-or-Treat alone. Go with a friend or in a group. Remember: Trick-or-Treating's more fun when there's more than one!

2. When Trick-or-Treating in an unfamiliar neighborhood, have at least one adult accompany your group. Remember: Grown-ups are people too, take one Trick-or-Treating this Halloween. You'll be glad you did.

3. Avoid Trick-or-Treating after dark. Decorate your costume with reflective tape so motorists can see you at twilight. Don't make the hospital one of your stops on this Halloween. Trick-or-Treat till the sun goes down.

4. Never walk along dark roads or wear masks that block your view of oncoming cars. Even if you're not a "ghost," you might be "invisible" to drivers, so stick to the sidewalk for safety.

5. Practice walking around the house in your costume before Trick-or-Treating. Fix any dangling ends that may cause you to trip or lose your balance. Your outfit should be scary and safe. 6. Keep your UNICEF collection carton in your Trick-or-Treat bag or use a piece of string to hang it around your neck while walking. Always keep one hand free for better balance.

7. Be careful when Trick-or-Treating around pets, scary costumes can frighten them too. Avoid bites and scratches by steering clear of dogs and cats, even those you know.

8. Never eat any unwrapped candy or fruit before letting your parents examine it at home. When in doubt, throw it out.

9. If you see someone causing trouble or damaging other people's property, stop at the nearest house and ask them to notify the police. Make this Halloween more treats than tricks, don't have fun at other people's expense.

10. Eating too much candy at once can make you sick. It's important to brush your teeth and have regular dental check-ups. Take care of your teeth, your smile will love you for it!

These Halloween Safety Tips have been provided as a public service by the U.S. Committee for UNICEF and your local UNICEF Committee. To find out more about UNICEF and how you can help the world's neediest children this Halloween, call 800-228-1888 or write U.S. Committee for UNICEF, 331 East 39th St., New York, N.Y. 10016.

WHAT ABOUT THE RIGHTS OF VICTIMS?

When a thief breaks into your home and robs you or destroys your property, you suffer a real loss.

When he's caught and convicted, the criminal may be sent to jail to pay his debt to society. But what about his debt to you?

Who pays to fix your house? Who pays to replace your valuables?

It just doesn't seem fair that you or your insurance company should have to pay. Especially when the guilty person has already been caught and convicted.

Make The Criminals Pay.

Why not make the convicted criminal pay for the damage he did?

You can. That's what victim restitution is all about. It's a law recently passed by the Mississippi Legislature.

But long before it became part of the law, James Thomas was working to make victim restitution a vital part of our criminal justice system.

They'll Think Twice Before They Act.

"Equal protection under the law is the foundation of our democracy. But sometimes it seems like criminals are more equal than their victims."

"I feel that a criminal should have to pay for any damage he's caused his victims. As Assistant District Attorney, I've routinely recommended that restitution be made a part of the sentencing of criminals."

"As Judge, I'll administer justice fairly, firmly and impartially. So criminals will think twice before they act."

He Has The Experience We Need.

James Thomas has spent his career in the judicial system of Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties.

He grew up in South Mississippi, the son of Christine Thomas and the late L. E. "Tommy" Thomas of Gulfport.

After graduating from U.S.M., he earned a law degree from Ole Miss and went to work as a lawyer in private practice.

Now he lives in Biloxi with his wife Sue, a Biloxi schoolteacher, and their 3-year-old daughter Tiffany.

He's In Touch With The People.

As Assistant District Attorney, he's worked for all the people in Harrison, Hancock and Stone Counties for nearly a decade.

He's prosecuted hundreds of cases in the very courtroom he'll preside over as judge.

He knows the law. He knows how our Circuit Court works. And he's in touch with the people he serves.

On November 2nd, let's elect James Thomas, Circuit Court Judge.

The promise of marriage is renewed for the third time between Erin Aline Maurice and Rudolph Benedict Shears of Brooklyn Naval Base, New York.

Kindly remember in your prayers Shannon Sherelle, 14, the infant daughter of Marie D. Lewis, who was born at St. Rose last Sunday.

Today's second collection is for the World Missions of the Church. There is nothing we can do but strive unless I pray. These words belong to Bishop Mondejar of the Philippines in expressing thanks for the support he received last year from the Propagation of the Faith to help him carry on the serving work of the Church among his people.

Today, Mission Sunday, the Propagation of the Faith passes these typical words of thanks on to you because, truly, without you, we could not be at all. Please pray for the Missions today and every day and make a generous sacrifice to help the 897 mission centers of the world which, with you, will continue the mission of Jesus. Thank you!

Mrs. Joan Thomas has agreed to be St. Rose candidate for the N.A.A.C.P. Mother of the Year in Hancock County. She will be soliciting your support by way of donations, ads and tickets for the annual dinner theater in honor of the late Doctor Martin Luther King, Jr. to be held on January 15, 1983. The Altar Society is now selling raffle tickets for a Party Pak for this purpose to be raffled on New Year's Eve.

Religious education classes are given every Sunday after the 9 a.m. Mass for all our students attending public schools, kindergarten through twelfth grade, and also for those in the Confirmation class.

The Veterans Civic Organization invites parishioners, members of the local chapter of the N.A.A.C.P., Concerned Citizens of Hancock County and all other interested voters to a meeting in our cafeteria this Monday at 7 p.m. to discuss the candidates in the upcoming elections.

Our Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

St. Rose Catholic Youth Organization will meet on Monday at 7 p.m. Its executive board will meet at 6:30 p.m.

Thursday at 1:30 a workshop will be given in church by Mrs. Marguerite Bennett for the Altar Ladies on the Upkeep and Care of the Sanctuary.

A special envelope is in your mail for you to list names of your beloved dead. Kindly drop this envelope in the collection basket next Sunday. It will be placed on the altar to be remembered at Mass on All Souls Day and in a general way at all the Masses during November. Those names on our Dead List at church entrance will also be remembered in this manner.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." —John 10:10

By Shawn Murphy

Listen to the words of the Apostle Paul in his uplifting epistle to the saints in Philippi.

"I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel." (1:4,5).

"Yes, I will continue to rejoice." (1:18)

"Make my joy complete." (2:2)

"Welcome him in the Lord with great joy." (2:29).

"Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord." (3:1).

"Therefore my brother, you whom I love and long for my joy and crown." (4:1).

"Rejoice in the Lord always, I will say it again! Rejoice." (4:4).

Do you get the idea that the 'abundant life' that Jesus brings to mankind is a 'joyful' experience? It is no wonder that Philippians has been called the epistle of joy.

Indeed, the sinner who accepts Jesus as his Lord and Savior has much to rejoice about. Not only does he have the forgiveness of his sins but he also enters into the fellowship of God's people.

On another occasion Paul stated that this "joy" is one of the obvious characteristics that should announce to the world that we have been born of the Spirit of God.

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control...Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit." (Galatians 5:22-25).

The key question to me is how do I cultivate this joy that I am supposed to have.

Well, certainly the largest part of it is a direct result of accepting Jesus as both Lord and Savior.

It should be the natural response of anyone who has experienced the saving grace of Jesus Christ. Of the Ethiopian Eunuch we read that after he was baptized that he went on his way rejoicing. (Acts 8:39).

And of course the happiest people we know are always those who even in the midst of hard times can be seen counting their blessings from God.

Charles Allen writes of some "Signs of a Happy (Joyful) Person." He describes the joyful person as one who takes life "for gratitude" and not "for grudging."

Signs of a Happy Person

—The happy person lives by affirmations rather than denunciations.

—The happy person sees good in others. Read the four Gospels and you will not find where Jesus ever criticized a sinner. He did not approve of the sin, but He always affirmed people.

—The happy person gives wholehearted effort to some undertaking. Loafing on the highway never leads to happiness.

—The happy person is always eager to give, and also is willing to receive.

—The happy person knows that life is too short to be unhappy. Those who have experienced happiness universally testify that the other problems of life either disappear or else solutions are found.

—Finally, for the happy individual the problems of life are changed into challenges and opportunities.

Natural family planning instruction offered in Biloxi

Instruction on natural family planning will be sponsored by Catholic Social Services of Biloxi and will be given by qualified representatives of the Couple to Couple League, Douglas and Imelda Touchet of Lafayette, La., beginning Saturday, Oct. 30 at The Sacred Heart Center in Biloxi at 8:30 a.m. To pre-register, call 374-4316.

Natural family planning is used to avoid or achieve pregnancy by observing the wife's fertile and infertile time. The Touchets will be teaching the Sympto-Thermal Method, which they claim is 99 percent effective as a method of birth regulation. With the Sympto-Thermal Method, several fertility signs, including temperature, mucus and cervix changes are observed, charted and interpreted. It assumes that every woman has irregular cycles.

The Touchets have been teaching natural family planning for over four years. The Couple to Couple League is the largest group teaching natural family planning in North America. The League was started in 1971 by John and Sheila Kippley with the help of Ronald A. Prem, M.D., head of the department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Minnesota School of Medicine.

Lutherans schedule five-county event

Dr. John Nau of Hattiesburg will be the featured speaker at the Lutheran Heritage Festival set for Sunday, Oct. 31 at Christ Lutheran Church in Pascagoula.

Dr. Nau, now retired, is the former head of the philosophy department at the University of Southern University. The festival begins at 2 p.m. with a bus tour of the early southeastern Mississippi Lutheran sites in Escatawpa, Hurley, Kreole and Pascagoula. The worship service with Dr. Nau as speaker commences at 5 p.m. and will feature the music and costumes of the European countries where Lutheranism originated.

Organizers of the event plan to provide food and entertainment indigenous to the Lutheran lands of Denmark, Finland, Germany, Norway and Sweden.

The observance celebrates the 100 anniversary of the Southern District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod along with the heritage of all Lutheran church bodies represented on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Energy Answers

WASTING WATER

Nobody wants to waste energy. So how come everybody does? That's easy. It's because everybody does. It seems hopeless to worry about one leaking faucet, one untuned automobile, one overly cool home...when there are so many others. But if each one of us would set his air conditioner just 6 degrees higher for just one day...we'd all save 100,000 barrels of oil. C'mon, everybody. Let's do it. COOLER WATER

Unless you're broiling lobsters in your water heater, you probably don't need water heated to 140 degrees or higher. Lower the thermostat on your water heater to 120 degrees which should be perfectly adequate for most purposes, and you'll save about 18 percent of the energy you were formerly using there. "L'il Abner," "Dennis the Menace" and "Snoopy" are just a few of the cartoon characters currently on display at the City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis.

The cartoon exhibit, part of a collection owned by the Rev. Joe N. McKeever, will be featured during the month of October at the library.

McKeever is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Columbus, Miss.

Most of the featured artists are members of the National Cartoonists Society, a professional organization formed in 1946 to further the interests of cartooning and of those individuals who work in that field.

McKeever's religious cartoon, called "Pews," was syndicated in October 1980 and, as a result, he qualified for membership in NCS.

Coordinated by the Mississippi Library Commission, the exhibit will be open to the public this month during regular library hours.

NEWS FROM THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Student dropouts and suspensions from school are problems for many Mississippi communities, and these problems long have been associated with unemployment and crime.

With four subgrants totaling $231,742 from the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning, Laurel City Schools addressed these problems by establishing an alternative learning center in 1979, and today, measurable results can be seen from providing educational opportunities for students who were potential dropouts and those who already had dropped out of school.

Prior to establishing the alternative learning center, Laurel City Schools had a dropout rate of 59.28 per 1,000 students enrolled during the 1978-79 school year. There were 2,176 students enrolled and 129 school dropouts. During the same period, students were suspended from school at a rate of 194.9 per 1,000 students.

At the end of the 1981-82 school year, the dropout rate had been reduced to 46 per 1,000 students (87 dropouts, 1,890 students enrolled), and the number of students suspended from school was reduced to 81 per 1,000 students (153 suspended, 1,890 enrolled).

This represents a reduction of 22.4 percent in the dropout rate and 58.4 percent in the rate of suspensions from school. There has been no expulsions from the school district since the 1978-79 school year when there were eight.

"The alternative school project has proven to be a successful outlet for high risk students of the Laurel Municipal School district," said David L. Sheppard, superintendent of Laurel City Schools. "The great number of suspended students no longer are allowed to roam the streets, but are assigned to the alternative school."

"The main thrust of the program is to reduce the tendency for young people to rebel against a system that penalizes them severely for lack of educational skills."

"The program offers these students an option of becoming a dropout, remaining on the streets, a second chance at getting an education or obtaining a GED high school equivalency certificate," Sheppard said.

The center offers courses in English, mathematics, history, science and special education. It also provides GED preparation for older students.

Students are referred to the center from other schools in the district, and these referrals may be behavioral problems that may lead to suspension from school or academic problems that eventually may cause the student to drop out of school. Efforts are made to recruit school-age students who have dropped out of work back into the school system.

"Over a thousand students have had the chance to obtain needed educational skills," Sheppard said. "Over a hundred have obtained the GED equivalency certificate and have entered college programs, military service and the world of work."

Herbert Terry, director of the juvenile justice program in the Governor's Office of Criminal Justice Planning said "this project is an example of what a community can do about dropout and suspension problems. Although our office no longer has funds available for the center, Laurel is taking over the financing."

Paul Little, deputy chief of the Laurel Police Department, noted that class I juvenile crime (the more serious offenses such as armed robbery, rape and assault) have decreased 30 percent since the center was established.

"Dropouts, suspensions and expulsions that put young people on the streets do not serve any demonstrated valid interest of children or schools. The cost of preventing dropouts and suspensions is recognized to be much lower than the cost of treating effects of inadequate education upon citizens of the community," Sheppard said. "It is generally recognized that individuals without educational skills cannot function as productive citizens in present society."

"Parents, students, teachers and community groups are concerned and feel the need for alternative options to traditional approaches in the education of certain students. The impact of this type of program has benefited the school system, the youth court, the law enforcement agencies and the individual student," he said. "This project has been a major factor in the change in attitude toward the 'high risk' students in our district."

Heart Healthy Recipe

ANY BEAN SALAD

- | | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|
| 1 16-ounce can beans (green, red or white kidney beans, chick peas or a combination) | 1/2 cup oil |
| 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper | 1/2 cup vinegar |
| 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento | 1/2 teaspoon oregano |
| 1 tablespoon chopped green onion | 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper |
| | 2 radishes, sliced |
| | 3 sprigs parsley, chopped |

Drain the beans; reserve the liquid and add water to it if necessary to make 1/2 cup.

Combine the beans, green pepper, pimiento and onion in a bowl. Mix together oil, vinegar, oregano, parsley, pepper and the reserved bean liquid. Pour over the vegetables; marinate in the refrigerator at least 3 hours.

Add radishes just before serving.

With a slotted spoon, lift the beans onto a bed of salad greens.

Yield: 8 servings. Approx. cal/serv.: 135.
